Privacy Policy and GDPR Statement

Introduction

This Privacy Notice explains in detail the types of personal data we may collect about you when you interact with us. It also explains how we'll store and handle that data, and keep it safe.

Explaining the legal bases we rely on

The law on data protection, based on the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and formerly the Data Protection Act, sets out a number of different reasons for which a company may collect and process your personal data, including:

Consent

We may collect and process your data with your consent. This may be when you have ticked a box to receive future communications from us in a paper document, online form or email. When collecting your personal data, we will make clear to you which data is necessary in connection with a particular service.

Contractual obligations

We need your personal data to comply with our contractual obligations. If you have booked sessions for your child, then we will need your contact details for example.

Legitimate interest

In specific situations, we require your data to pursue our legitimate interests in a way which might reasonably be expected as part of running our business and which does not materially impact your rights, freedom or interests. For example, if we have worked for you before we may use your address details to tell you about new projects, performances and opportunities that we think may interest you.

How and why do we use your personal data?

Here's how we'll use your personal data and why:

- To perform any contract we've agreed with you
- To respond to your queries. We may also keep a record of these to inform any future communication with us and to demonstrate how we communicated with you throughout. We do this on the basis of our contractual obligations to you, our legal obligations and our legitimate interests in providing you with the best service and understanding how we can improve our service based on your experience.
- To protect our business from fraud and other illegal activities. We'll do all of this as part of our legitimate interest.
- With your consent, we will use your personal data to keep you informed by email, social media, text, telephone about relevant products and services including tailored special offers, discounts, promotions, events, competitions and so on. You are free to opt out of hearing from us by any of these channels at any time.
- To send you relevant, personalised communications by post in relation to updates, offers, services and products. We'll do this on the basis of our legitimate business interest. You are free to opt out of hearing from us by post at any time.
- To send you communications required by law or which are necessary to inform you about our changes to the services we provide you.

- To send you survey and feedback requests to help improve our services. These messages will not include any promotional content and do not require prior consent when sent by email or text message. We have a legitimate interest to do so as this helps make our products or services more relevant to you. You are free to opt out of receiving these requests from us at any time by contacting us.

How we protect your personal data

We know how much data security matters to all our participants. With this in mind we will treat your data with the utmost care and take all appropriate steps to protect it. Our computers and mobile devices are all password protected. We regularly review our security.

How long will we keep your personal data?

Whenever we collect or process your personal data, we'll only keep it for as long as is necessary for the purpose for which it was collected.

At the end of that retention period, your data will either be deleted completely or anonymised, for example by aggregation with other data so that it can be used in a nonidentifiable way for statistical analysis and business planning.

Who do we share your personal data with?

We won't share any information outside of B Sharp without asking you, except in certain circumstances required by law, a regulatory requirement or to safeguard a child. We do not share your information with third parties, unless legally required to do so.

What are your rights over personal data

You have the right to request:

- Access to the personal data we hold about you, free of charge.
- The correction of your personal data when incorrect, out of date or incomplete.
- The right to deletion, for example when you withdraw consent, or object and we have no legitimate overriding interest, or once the purpose for which we hold the data has come to an end (such as the end of a contract).
- That we stop using your personal data for direct marketing (either through specific channels, or all channels).
- That we stop any consent-based processing of your personal data after you withdraw that consent.

Your right to withdraw consent

Whenever you have given us your consent to use your personal data, you have the right to change your mind at any time and withdraw that consent.

Where we rely on our legitimate interest

In cases where we are processing your personal data on the basis of our legitimate interest, you can ask us to stop for reasons connected to your individual situation. We must then do so unless we believe we have a legitimate overriding reason to continue processing your personal data.

Direct marketing

We do not share your information, so you will only get the occasional message from us, which is usually by email or through social media. You have the right to stop the use of your personal data for direct marketing activity through all channels, or selected channels. We must always comply with your request.

You can stop direct marketing communications from us by contacting us by telephone, email, post or via social media.

- If you feel that your data has not been handled correctly, or you are unhappy with our response to any requests you have made to us regarding the use of your personal data, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).
- You can contact them by calling 0303 123 1113.
